Morning Oregonian.

VOL. XV.—NO. 111. PORTLAND, OREGON, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 13, 1877. PRICE—TEN CENTS.

GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Dividend.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The executive committee of the board of directors of the Western Union Telegraph Co. recommended that the full board on Wednesday declare a quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent. On this the stock advance to 62¾, but subsequently fell back to 62¼ 7-11.

The Crooked Set Free.

MILWAUKEE, June 11.—All indictments against manufacturers of crooked whisky in the city, some 80 in all, have been, nolle prossed today by the District Attorney on authority of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Some of the defendants have moved out of the city, some quit business or died, and some indictments found irregular. Only three cases are now on file.

Fire in a Coal Mine.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., June 12.—The mines are on fire and burning to considerable depth. The fire originated last Saturday by a blast which lighted the gas. An explosion followed, and considerable damage to walls and props ensued. A later dispatch states it is believed seven gangways are burning, and the fire is making rapid progress. A large stream has been turned into the mines. No miners were hurt by the explosion.

Bonds Called In.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The New York Express says Secretary Sherman will call in $15,000,000 of 5-20s to-day or to-morrow.

Heavy Failure.

BOSTON, June 11.—H. A. Blood, formerly general manager of the Boston, Clinton and Fitchburg Railroad and connected with other roads, has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. Liabilities over $1,600,000; assets, $1,300,000. He has long been troubled financially, and carries with him in his fall Solomon H. Row, a well known dry goods jobber, who loses $400,000. They have both been carrying too heavy loads. The creditors are numerous.

The Rocky Mountain Floods.

ROCK, June 11.—Some damage from high water. The river is higher than ever known before here.

ST. LOUIS, June 11.—The freshets in the Missouri continue destructive to property in the vicinity of Kansas City, and some railroads are still submerged in places.

The Cotton Crop.

MEMPHIS, June 11.—Crop reports of this district show the cotton yield will be considerably smaller than last year. Other crops are better and farmers are encouraged.

Democratic Reception.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The reception and serenade given Gov. Robinson at the Everett House to-night was an immense affair. Members of various assembly districts met at Tammany Hall and marched to the hotel, headed by a band of 75 pieces. Hon. Henry L. Clinton delivered the welcoming address to which Gov. Robinson responded briefly, his remarks having reference mainly to State and city affairs, but near the close of his speech he alluded to National politics and said: "The pathway of fraudulent electors is the pathway to National death. If the Republic is to endure, we have to look for the last time upon the inauguration of a National Executive who was never elected."

Fast Trains.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The fast train on the Pennsylvania road which left Chicago Sunday evening arrived here at 7 this evening, making the run, including stoppages, in 24 hours and 10 minutes.

The fast train from Chicago over the Pennsylvania railway arrived at Jersey City on time.

Railway Collision.

CHICAGO, June 12.—An excursion train came in collision with the Winchester train near Bend of Rocks, and Charles Kefer, Richard Bennett, Rocks and Walker killed. Louis Sohn, conductor, and others, were seriously injured. The train was from Baltimore, conveying passengers to a dedication of the monument in the Confederate cemetery at Lexington.

Fires.

ST. LOUIS, June 12.—Six stables between six and seven o'clock last night destroyed about $2,000 worth of property.

Great Forest Fires.

LOS ANGELES, June 11.—An immense fire is raging in the mountains between here and Santa Monica, and has already burned over thousands of acres, destroying a number of dwelling houses, together with barns and other buildings. The people of the neighborhood have been fighting it constantly since Saturday afternoon, but the strong winds, together with the scarcity of water, render the efforts futile. It is now sweeping down upon the plains, and by to-night its progress will be stayed. It will have consumed a great deal of valuable property. Between four and six men are now on fire, and residents of the vicinity are exhausted and discouraged. No fatalities have been reported.

LOMPOC, June 12.—About noon of the 10th a fire broke out on Don Jose Rochin's ranch, some six miles south of this place, and is raging fearfully in an eastern direction. It is burning stock and everything in its way. At 5 o'clock it was making a direct course for Tinaca river, but yesterday the wind blew from the southwest, which turned it down Young Bros.' and Buel's ranch, over which it swept rapidly. After burning out the head of cattle on Don Rochin's ranch and completely making away with all grass on the third ranch, it came down into San Marcela canyon, where, were it not that citizens who turned out and fought it in the hot sun for fifteen straight hours, without food it would have undoubtedly burned up every house in the canyon. Young Bros. are thinking of butchering what stock they have left to prevent starvation, while Messrs. Buell and Rochin are looking for new range. It is impossible to estimate the loss. All now is quiet. No further danger is apprehended. [illegible] is fire raging on the ranch of Rochin, seven miles northwest, [illegible] clothing and all of his de[illegible] over 2,000 acres of his best grass which he was saving to winter his sheep with. The ranchero and all worked down endeavoring to stop it, but the fire seems to have been the work of an incendiary.

Indians Located.

HARNEY, June 11.—General Hammond, superintendent of Indian Affairs for Dakota, and the balance of the commissioners appointed to locate Sioux Indians, Red Cloud agencies, returned here to-day having completed their mission. It is understood they have selected ground at the old White Stone Hill agency for the bands, and at the mouth of Grand river for the others, both being on the Missouri river.

Very Much Better.

LAYFAYETTE, June 12.—Senator Ferry is out of danger and slowly convalescing.

Three Suicides.

ST. LOUIS, June 12.—Thos. Bolby a gambler and confidence thief, suicided in a pawnbroker's shop last night. To-day E. H. Schroyer, a wine dealer, German, shot himself in the head precisely the same way, and Jody Schenck, a Masonic mason, was found dead in his house this morning from the effects of Paris Green which he had taken.

Insurance Company Failed.

HARTFORD, June 11.—The Commercial Insurance Co. has made an assignment.

Gross Carelessness.

FAIRMONT, June 12.—All wounded by the late disaster except two recover. By some the collision is considered due to gross carelessness of train men.

The Georgia Constitution.

ATLANTA, June 12.—The vote on holding a State constitutional convention was held to-day. Returns do not definitely indicate how the matter is decided. The blacks here generally against it, as did many whites. The vote in the State is light.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Alabama Appointments.

CHICAGO, June 11.—The Tribune's Washington special says: The President to-day in conversation with the Alabama delegation said he had made some appointments in Alabama which he now saw were unwise, but which not being able to recall he left for Congress to act upon. Concerning carpetbaggers he did not consider persons who had become bona fide residents of a State necessarily odious because they are Northerners, but only those who went South for the purpose of holding office, and made that a business.

Gagging the Administration.

The letter of Senator Morgan, of Alabama to the attorney-general demanding the suspension of criminal prosecution against the ballot box stuffers in that State, was even more dictatorial than at first reported. He spoke of the affair as trivial, and said the President should issue an order which would sweep all the cases aside immediately.

Alabama Politics.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Delegations from Alabama, representing the ultra and moderate Republicans of that State, had separate interviews with the President to-day. In response to their representations the President appears to have said the changes he had made in Alabama offices were in the interest of what he considered the union of the Republican sentiment of the State, and that he would make no changes except for inefficiency or corruption. He further said that in making appointments he would select men who had material interests in the State.

Federal Appointments.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—James Lewis (colored) has been commissioned a naval officer at New Orleans.

Col. Jack Wharton has been officially notified of his appointment as U. S. marshal for Louisiana vice Pitkin, suspended, and will be commissioned upon filing the requisite bond.

Travel on the Isthmus.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Official reports show a large increase in the number of passengers from the East passing over the Isthmus of Darien as compared with the corresponding period last year.

A Popular Financial Move.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The Times' Washington special says Secretary Sherman received to-day from Conant, syndicate agent in London, a long dispatch, stating that the new contract made for placing 4 per cent. bonds is regarded with favor in money circles, and the prediction is made this will become in foreign markets, by reason of its duration, the most popular of American securities. Baron Rothschild also telegraphed Sherman a congratulatory dispatch upon his success in placing the new bonds. Some of the terms of the contract were strenuously opposed by Rothschild and Belmont, and their consent to the contract was only obtained a few hours before it was drawn.

Our Relations with Mexico.

The Tribune's Washington special, alluding to-day to the posture of affairs likely to grow out of the new policy, says: Evarts said, "I anticipate no trouble with Mexico. All we desire is the observance of our rights as a sovereign power and the inviolability of American soil. These we must have, and as the Mexican government has expressed determination to see these two requests are observed, there can be no cause for complication. At the same time the U. S. forces from Laredo to Brownsville will be vigilant. They have their instructions."

The Chisholm Massacre—More Horrible Details.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—A letter is received at the Times bureau, dated Jackson, Miss., June 6th. It says Judge Lee, U. S. district attorney for the district in which occurred the Chisholm massacre, has commenced an investigation into the tragedy. Judge Lee left Brandon for Meridian June 5th to meet J. L. Blair, Esq., of Hicks, Chisholm, Wells in full all the facts of the massacre, having been present with the Chisholm family from the time of the tragedy to the death of Miss Chisholm. In his letter the correspondent says: "From all you have read you yet know comparatively little of the horror of that tragic Sabbath day and the occurrences which immediately followed. Wells informed me that the physician sent from Meridian to attend Judge Chisholm and his wounded daughter had to obtain a pass from Democrats and had to present the pass to a mob at DeKalb before he would be permitted to visit Chisholm's house, and at that time Judge Chisholm and his heroic daughter, wounded unto death, were suffering intense pain for lack of surgical aid. Before the body of the little son of Judge Chisholm, whose head was first shot off and his heart afterwards blown from his body, could be interred, permission had to be obtained from the Meridian mob. The last hours of Chisholm and his daughter were passed in bodily and mental anguish, guarded by a few relatives and friends, the windows of the house boarded up and the doors barricaded against apprehended attack.

The Interview between Alabamians and the President.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—In the interview with the Alabamians yesterday the President, in reply to the statement that under the former administration a man was appointed to a responsible and lucrative position in Alabama and credited to that State, when he had never been in it six months altogether, said that was not right; also that it was not his policy to appoint to offices or retain in office Northern men who went South simply for the purpose of obtaining places. The President also alluded to the case of a gentleman who had left Ohio in 1872 and went to New York for the purpose of being elected a member of Congress from that State. In regard to Senator Spencer, the President said that it was very natural that Spencer had exercised his influence to put into office all of his own personal friends just as other Senators had done, but he thought that such a course as this was calculated to lead to dissatisfaction and put such Senators' friends in the minority. He would be glad to have the assistance of such Senators in making his Appointments, but the views of other representative men must also have consideration. He is determined that when the Republican party was divided in any State, he would not allow either wing to control appointments, but he would always endeavor as far as possible to reconcile conflicting views and interests of both sides. The views of the President gave entire satisfaction to the delegation, and the gentlemen assured him that as representatives of the Republican party of the State, they fully concurred in the propriety of his views, and those of them who held Federal offices would support his administration regardless of any effect his action might have on them personally.

Conkling in Bad Humor.

Senator Conkling, who was here for four days, secured his passport for Europe through subordinates of the State Department, as his relations with Evarts precluded personal intercourse with that gentleman. During Conkling's stay here, it is said by his intimate friends, that he did not call at the White House nor did he meet the President, and further that he has abstained entirely from recommendations of any nature in behalf of persons who seek Presidential favors, leaving himself free to oppose or support the President when Congress meets, as he may see fit.

Relieved from Duty.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—J. A. Gilpin, chief clerk and acting commissioner of the Indian bureau, at his own request, is relieved from duty, pending the investigation of charges preferred by J. B. Wolfe, and the President has designated Alonzo Bell Assistant Secretary.

Reduction of Legal Tender Circulation.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The World's Washington special says the proper authorities at the Treasury furnish a very positive denial of the statement that national banks have begun to exercise the power under law to reduce the volume of greenbacks by surrendering its circulation and applying the next day for reissue so that the process of cancellation of 80 per cent. legal tender can go on. It is not denied that the banks can do that till the legal tender circulation is reduced to $300,000,000.

National Bank Circulation.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—In order to correct various published mistakes in reference to the amount of additional circulation recently issued to national banks in the city of New York, the Comptroller of the Currency furnishes the following: Total amount of additional circulation issued to all national banks of the country since the passage of the act Jan. 14, 1875, to date is $27,311,825. Of this amount $6,462,770 has been issued to banks in the city of New York. The circulation of New York national banks will be increased eight millions, or half the present amount. There is no foundation whatever for the statement that national banks in New York City had issued to them a million additional circulation at three different times during the past few weeks, as the whole amount issued to banks of the city of New York during the present year has been but slightly in excess of two millions.

Navy Regulations.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The Secretary of the Navy has issued a circular calling attention of officers of that branch of the public service to sections of the revised statutes regarding public advertisements, and also the opinion of the Attorney General fixing the rate for such advertisements at 40 cents per folio of 100 words for the first insertion, and 20 cents per folio for each subsequent insertion; also to the letter of the Second Comptroller of the Treasury, to the effect that in the adjustment of accounts of disbursing officers of the Navy, his office will require that all payments for newspaper advertisments must be in conformity with that opinion.

Wharton Commissioned.

The President has commissioned Jack Wharton U. S. Marshal of Louisiana.

Commissioned.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The President to-day commissioned Wm. H. Bolmy postmaster at Red Bluffs, Cal.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

Sherman's Financial Policy.

CHICAGO, June 11.—Secretary Sherman furnishes the Tribune's Washington correspondent a statement of his financial policy of which the following is the substance:

The silver question has two extremes equally threatening and equally plausible; one represented in the east and the other in the West. The disputants will rest in a refreshing shower of silver to replace paper and facilitate resumption in both gold and silver. To compel creditors to take silver coin for all debts when it is ten per cent. below gold now, would immediately depreciate the purchasing power of a dollar five per cent. below gold, and would utterly destroy public credit, stop our funding operations which are reducing the public debt, drive from the country all gold and leave us with what our silver friends so much denounce, a single standard of silver bullion. Good sense reveals the results of this doctrine. The other extreme opinion would demonetize silver which is absolutely essential for the daily want, which is the coin more universally used by mankind than any other, and in which the rich and poor are alike interested. The free use of both metals convertible into one another and both of equal current value, of the genuine bimetallic standard of value, is assumed by the whole commercial world to be impossible in the face of the fact that gold can't be divided so as to meet one of the hundred daily wants of life. Both these extreme opinions will assuredly be abandoned eventually. It is an old dispute which the government has always adjusted by issuing both metals at its option and maintaining them equal in value at a fixed rate: by limiting the quantity of the one. The metal is more valuable in the market than its legal ratio can be, issued without limit. The metal less valuable in the market than its legal ratio must be limited in its issue; leaving absolute need of it to fix the amount. In this country where we are struggling to make our paper money equal to coin, we are happily in a condition to do this easily with profit to the government. The way is to issue silver coin whenever demanded, the smaller coin being exchanged for other fractional paper money or U. S. notes which may then be retired. Silver coins have already supplied the body of fractional currency and they are a legal tender to the same extent. Let government publish for all the world what it is worth, coin silver dollars and issue them freely to everybody who will surrender a paper dollar. This is a fair and voluntary exchange. The silver dollar ought to be received by the government at all times on equal terms precisely as the paper dollar. In this way perhaps 50,000,000 silver dollars will supersede 50,000,000 of paper dollars more or less. This process will bring both paper and silver nearer and nearer to the standpoint of gold, and without putting our money to the same value. We will then have paper money supported by the public credit and gold and silver coin in abundance, so that every man who has either his labor or productions to sell can have either kind of money, and all of the same value, and everything he wants to carry it in large sums or for daily use, or change, or for foreign exchange he will take paper, silver or gold. This will make all interchangeable and make gold the ultimate standard. It would double the volume of gold and silver could have an international standard, but this is now impracticable. We may use silver alone as China does, and plenty of countries are ready to take all the gold we have. We can not afford to buy and sell in the world at the gold standard and compete with them, nor can we deny ourselves the great convenience of an ample silver currency just equal to gold by confining its issue to actual demand for it. We are now so near the uniform standard of all kinds of money, that I have too much confidence in the shrewdness of our people to believe that they will take a step backwards.

The Silver Bill Veto.

The Times' Washington special says Gov. Cullom, of Illinois, had a long talk with the President to-day, at which his silver bill veto was alluded to. The President explained that the newspapers were in error in quoting him as having criticised the veto message. What he did say was that he was sorry Cullom was compelled to veto the bill, although he justified him in it, believing the bill was not just what was wanted. He should have vetoed it himself had he been in Cullom's place under the same circumstances. The President said he was a good deal of a silver man, but had learned that it was not always best to express too free an opinion unofficially upon topics which were being publicly discussed.

The Inter Ocean's special from Washington says the President said to Governor Cullom of Illinois to day that the newspapers erred in quoting him as criticising the Governor's veto of the silver bill. He had said he regretted the necessity of vetoing it but justified the act in the premises, and should have done so himself.

A New Lesson.

The Times in an editorial says the President is represented as saying to Gov. Cullom yesterday that he was a good deal of a silver man, but had learned it was not always best to express too free an opinion on topics which were being publicly discussed. This we presume can hardly be a lesson of recent date with the president, but he must have learned also that the difficulty attending a frank expression of opinion is very much greater when it relates to a question like that of silver, and when the opinion is not entirely sound. Authors of the scheme for silver inflation will seize on the slightest encouragement for a belief that their precious conspiracy is favored by the President, because they know if he will but give them the inch they can take the ell. Everything they gain, however, is at the risk of the public credit, and it is one of the greatest dangers that the country has now to face that these men can hope for countenance for their wild measure from the executive of the nation.

The New Financial Policy.

The World's Washington special says it is becoming very evident that the new policy will be in favor of making silver a legal tender equal to legal tender of the character of treasury notes, which of course covers all contracts made in the latter, and holding at the same time that the government should only exchange silver for legal tenders and fractional currency, and not to see a certain limit authorized by law. This may not take official shape until Congress meets, in October, though so far as Sherman is concerned, no secret is made of his views in favor of the remonetization of silver within the restrictions named. He believes a law making the silver dollar a legal tender will aid resumption, as it will take the place of treasury notes exchanged for it.

The Mississippi Jetties.

NEW ORLEANS, June 11.—A ship drawing 20 feet and 9 inches of water put to sea safely this morning through the west pass. A bark drawing 18 feet 6 inches went to sea through the jetties.

THE WAR IN THE EAST.

Greece Asked to Explain.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 11.—The Turkish minister at Athens has certainly received a dispatch ordering him to ask for an explanation of war preparations. The dispatch, however, has not yet been presented to the Greek cabinet.

To Relieve Nicsic.

All Turkish forces near Krotaz are concentrating an I preparing for an attack for the relief of Nicsic.

A corps of Montenegrin troops, isolated from the main body, was surprised by a body of Turks numbering 2,000 and a terrific engagement followed. The Montenegrin corps was completely exterminated.

Turkish Finances.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 11.—The Chamber of Deputies voted the credits required by the ministries of war and marine, and adopted a resolution in favor of suppressing a number of superfluous posts in various departments.

Peace Talk in England.

LONDON, June 11.—At a banquet of the merchant tailors' school last evening, Lord Derby and Salisbury made speeches in which they assumed a remarkably Pacific tone. The Marquis of Salisbury said:

I am for myself far from sharing many of the apprehensions which I hear around me. It may be our duty in possible contingencies to put forth our strength to defend indirect interests; but when I say this I would recommend when any one comes to you with a tale of indirect interests being threatened, to cross-examine them before you bet even their statement. Caution and extra caution is necessary before the government risks wealth, prosperity and free loan, and breaks the peace of the world, not in the pursuit of real honor, but for a theory and a dream. It has generally been acknowledged to be madness to go to war for any idea; but if anything, it is more unsatisfactory to go to war against a nightmare. I will not say that we have an enemy, although it is generally supposed that this war has been so inserted against English interests I believe it may be looked at in another light. Be steadfast and calm: do not mistake panic for real danger, or phantoms for realities; but if real danger arises, if our interests are threatened, we will confidently defend them at any cost.

Lord Derby said he could only repeat the Marquis of Salisbury's excellent arguments. After all we must remember this: that the greatest of all British interests is the interest of peace.

Roumania not to Fight.

VIENNA, June 11.—The question whether the Roumanian army is to take an active part in the war seems to have been decided in the negative. The forces now mostly concentrated in Little Wallachia are to maintain an army sufficient for the present their defensive attitude, facing Widin and forming the extreme right of the Russian army.

Hurrying Up the Recruits.

BERLIN, June 11.—Orders have been issued by the Russian government to accelerate as much as possible the levy of 218,000 men. Despite this the opinion continues to prevail here that Russia wishes to settle with Turkey on the basis of the nominal integrity of Turkey in Europe, and some such settlement will be advocated by powerful persons at Constantinople if the Russians succeed in crossing the Danube and assuming an energetic offensive in Bulgaria.

The Servian Attitude.

BELGRADE, June 11.—In order to avoid all occasion for collision with the Porte, Servia has canceled the mission of M. Marinovitch, who was appointed to wait upon the Czar at Ploiesti. Nevertheless, Servia seems to be preparing for war. The militia everywhere is drilling and severe punishments are inflicted on deserters.

Helping the Distressed.

The Empress of Russia has sent 3,000 napoleons to alleviate the extreme distress among refugees at Alexinatz and in Southern Servia, where the people are dying from want.

BUDA, June 11.—Slavonic journals state that the Moscow Slavonic committee has just sent considerable sums of money to Belgrade.

Insurrection Expected.

An insurrection is expected in the Turkish province of old Servia.

An American in the War.

SULINA, June 11.—One of the prisoners taken at the repulse of the torpedo boat attack on the Turkish iron clads, is an American.

Good Artillery Work.

GIURGEVO, June 12.—The fire from the Turkish forts during the past few days has been unusual y heavy, and their gunners have improved very much by their practice. For a week heavy artillery duels have been reported from various points along the Danube. We have suffered here considerably, more than military officers care to admit, the accuracy of aim on the part of the Turkish artillerists being something remarkable. On several days no fewer than from fifty to sixty shells have fallen within the fort but not more than one-third have exploded or the work would soon prove intolerable.

Turkish Atrocities in Bulgaria.

A number of Greek prisoners who recently escaped from Silistria report the recommencement of Turk sh atrocities in Bulgaria. They also assert the Turks are concentrating in great force near Widin, with a view to the immediate commencement of offensive operations.

Christians not Persecuted.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Aristarchi Bey, the Turkish minister, furnishes the Associated Press the following telegram from Constantinople: "Rome journals have pretended that Christians have recently been massacred on the Danube, in Bosnia and Thessaly. These reports are without foundation."

Rumors of Russia's Programme.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The Times' London special says it is reported here that Count Schouvaloff repeats his assurances that the Russian government has no intention to interfere with British interests in the East, but it is beginning to be generally understood that Russia is endeavoring to subsidize the press, and that she is evidently preparing the public mind for her forthcoming occupation of Constantinople. Meanwhile rumors of decided Turkish successes on the line of the Danube, and the improvement of Turkish prospects in Asia continue to gain ground. The financial prospects of neither of the belligerents are particularly hopeful. Reports of great stringency alike at St. Petersburg and Constantinople are fully credited.

It is said important negotiations are on foot between the English government and the Khedive in reference to the protection of British interests in Egypt.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The Herald's London special says the fact is pretty generally understood that Russia is determined to emancipate Bulgaria at all hazards from the rule of Turkey. It is said the Czar came to a perfect understanding with Germany and Austria on this point.

A Raising Torpedoes.

NEW YORK, June 12.—On Friday divers from a Turkish ship succeeded in picking up torpedoes placed by Russians in the channel below Widdin. The Danube has been so thickly set with torpedoes by the Russians as to neutralize to a great extent the presence of Turk sh ironclads.

The War Feeling in England.

CHICAGO, June 12.—The Tribune's London special says there are no new developments in England. There never was such a diversion of English sentiment on the question of war or peace as at present. A declaration of war at this moment would without doubt meet with vast opposition in the great centers of population all over England. The only chances of seeing a union of all parties would be in the Russians taking the advantage of their victories to push their conquests which would injure the English commercial interests.

Turkish Confidence Reviving.

The Tribune's Constantinople special says there is great rejoicing over the reported repulse of the Russians in Asia and on the Danube. The Turks are regaining confidence in their powers of defense, this confidence having been shaken sadly by Mukhtar Pasha's reverses. In the Chamber of Deputies the formal announcement of these victories was received with cheers.

Operations in Asia Minor.

VIENNA, June 12.—Telegrams from Asia Indicate there is no longer the feeling of despondency which was so marked of late.

Accounts from Turkish sources states that a battle will be risked in Aras tes valley, and the only question is whether the Russians will attack the Turks from the position they have chosen, or push forward the column coming from Olti toward Erzeroum, and turn the Turkish flank. The flying columns which Mukhtar Pasha has sent against the Russians at Olti show that the Turks are aware of this danger but it remains to be seen whether they can obv ate and spare sufficient force to check the eventual advance of the Russians over the pass of Kiretzhli Dagh, ending direct from Olti to the head of the valley of western Euphrates and Erzeroum.

English Satisfaction.

The Times says the Marquis of Salisbury and Earl Derby's speeches at the banquet of the Merchant Tailors' School, last evening, coming immediately after the presentation of Gortschakoff's letter will give intense satisfaction to the whole country.

General War Notes.

LONDON, June 11.—The Egyptian contingent for Turkey has sailed, escorted by four Turkish men-of-war.

There are 320 newspaper correspondents in Roumania.

Foti is deserted, shops are closed, and the inhabitants have fled into the interior. Only a few soldiers remain to oppose the landing of Circassians from Turkish transports.

LONDON, June 11.—A Constantinople dispatch reports heavy firing south of that city.

A dispatch from Erzeroum states that Mukhtar Pasha's army is decimated by sickness, and that the commissariat is in a frightful condition. The roads are swarming with deserters from his army.

BUCHAREST, June 11.—Prime Minister Bratiano, accompanied by the minister of foreign affairs, has gone to Ploiesti to make definite arrangements concerning Roumanian participation in military operations.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 11.—Prince Gortschakoff has not obtained leave of absence for a six weeks' tour.

BUCHAREST, June 12.—The delay of Russian corps in crossing the Danube is having a bad effect on the army.

Another officer has been shot at Jassy for malversation in office, and the greatest astonishment and indignation are expressed.

PLOIESTI, June 12.—It is understood Prince Gortschakoff is still very anxious for peace, but he considers the Turks not yet sufficiently beaten to warrant propositions looking to that end.

Several important telegrams have been received from Count Schouvaloff. In London there are rumors of some considerable Turkish successes at Rutschuk.

The Emperor travels in a luxurious car, fitted either for railway or ordinary roads. He looks far from being well. He has met with a most enthusiastic reception at all points on his journey.

The Grecian Army.

ATHENS, June 12.—The Greek army is to be reorganized. Thirty thousand men are to constitute a standing force. In 1873 the army was fixed at only 12,397 men.

Retiring from Erzeroum.

Russians are retiring from Erzeroum in order to prosecute the siege of Kars.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Italian Elections.

ROME, June 11.—The elections have commenced for provincial councilors of Rome and have so far resulted favorably to the Liberals. No clerical candidates have been successful.

MacMahon and the Legitimists.

LONDON, June 11.—A Paris dispatch vouches for the accuracy of the following report of President MacMahon's reply to the Legitimist deputation. The President said: "My duty forbids that I should risk a change of the elements composing the present cabinet, seeing that it has offended none of the powers with which France is friendly. As to the Legitimist candidate, any Legitimist candidate really having a chance of success, will be openly and loyally supported by the administration at the elections. The question of prolonging my office will not be considered during the prorogation of the Chamber, and I shall hold myself to no compromise of any kind whatever nor to any venture of Imperial Monarchical restoration. It will perhaps be necessary to demand a dissolution of the Chambers. If you accord it to me I shall use it as we has as possible. If you refuse it I shall withdraw."

Will not Resign.

PARIS, June 12.—Members of the budget committee appear agreed to support the rejection of the budget of ministry and refuse to resign in obedience to a vote of censure.

Will Dine at the Palace.

LONDON, June 11.—Gen. Grant has accepted an invitation to a fete which is to be given at Alexandria Palace June 19th.

Going to Scotland.

EDINBURGH, June 12.—Gen. Grant evinces particular pleasure of receiving an invitation of Lord Provost, of Edinburgh. He intends to make a long stay in Scotland.

Sticks to the Death Penalty.

LONDON, June 12.—In the House of Commons a motion for the abolition of capital punishment was rejected, 155 to 50.

Bonds.

LONDON, June 12.—Four and a half per cent. bonds, 104½; 10-40s, 109; New York Central, 38.

Bank of England.

LONDON, June 12.—Amount of bullion gone into the bank of England on balance to-day £40,000.

Defenses of Antwerp.

ANTWERP, June 12.—The Journal Danvers says Antwerp is being put in a complete defensive state by the erection of strategic works on the line of the river Scheldt.

THE MAILS

Perhaps it is too much to hope for, but it would really be a great point gained if we could have ordinary intelligence and honest performance of contract in the transportation of the mails between California and Oregon. It has been supposed that the transportation of the mails was designed to be a benefit to the public But the "authorities" have changed all that On this important route the contractors are allowed to perform the service in such manner as suits their convenience Since summer began and the roads be came good, so that the mails can come through rapidly Eastern and California newspapers are not carried overland at all, but are sen by way of San Francisco and thence to Oregon by steamer As a fruit of this management New York papers twenty days old were yesterday delivered through the postoffice here Just as soon as fast time makes the daily overland route useful, the mails are sent around by the longer and slower route. Before they reach us their value is almost destroyed by accumulation and delay In winter season this can be borne, because then there are periods during which it is physically impossible to deliver the mails on time, overland. On these occasions we have the alternative of receiving the mails by sea, or not getting them till the roads improve after the winter wears away But now there is no excuse whatever, or, if any exists, the public would like to know it. While the overland line was running during the spring of long time it often brought the newspapers and miscellaneous mails But within a few weeks, and since the roads improved so that they could be carried through on short time, the programme has been changed. It is a nuisance and an abomination. And now we are consoled by the information that the change is a permanent one. It is supported by an order from Washington, procured at the solicitation of the contractors, in order to lighten the mails on a route over which they are paid to carry them.

This is simply intolerable. The hand of "influence" is plainly visible in the obtainment of this order from the department Work like this is a very prevalent vice at Washington. In nearly every instance when the bottom is reached it is found that a Senator or Representative, acting as agent of the party interested, has taken the case in hand and made such statements as have carried the object. Too frequently there s reason to believe this "influence" is obtained by ways that are dark The contractors on the route between Redding and Roseburg want to get rid of carrying the mails according to their agreement During the present summer large travel is expected. By shirking the duty of carrying the mails which they are paid to perform, they will have opportunity to make a great deal of money by carrying passengers. Department is induced to sanction the scheme so adroitly planned, and by the time our mails reach us they are almost valueless. And though we have a Senator at Washington who can watch with greatest vigilance for opportunity to serve his circle of personal friends, and thus to serve himself, by the creation and distribution of offices, this outrage that so effects the whole people, either has his sanction, or is neglected by him. Any proper representation from him at the department would set the matter right.

If the postal agents were not so greatly overworked by the requirements of politics, they perhaps might find time to lay the case before the department. But they have a great deal to do, in order to help out the Senators at the opposite ends of the line, who find an interesting and critical period in their political career now rapidly approaching. Hence there seems to be no one to represent the facts to the department, or to suggest to the proper authorities that it would be well to take measures to enforce the contract for the proper transportation of the mails. Meantime, we suppose, the people must suffer indefinitely from this neglect and mismanagement.

THE LAST OF THE HARPERS.

Fletcher Harper, the last of the Harper brothers, whose publishing house is known wherever the English language is spoken, died a few days ago at the age of seventy-three. There were four brothers, James, John, Joseph and Fletcher. Their father was a farmer of Long Island. At the age of sixteen James and John were apprenticed to printers in New York City. After mastering the trade they started a printing establishment of their own, and for a long time did the greater part of the composition and press work with their own hands. Books bearing the names of "J & J Harper, Publishers," are still found in old libraries. In 1825 the two younger brothers were admitted into the firm, and the style was changed to Harper & Brothers. The publishing house thus established has for many years been the largest in the world. Its catalogue of publications exceeds two thousand The periodicals issued by this house have long had the largest circulation of any ever published. The New Monthly Magazine was started in 1850, and Harper's Weekly in 1857. It is said that these publications owe their existence to Fletcher Harper, since it was mainly at his instance that they were undertaken.

James, the senior brother, was mayor of New York in 1844 He died in 1869. Joseph died in 1870, and John in 1875.

In 1853 the whole of their great establishment was destroyed by fire. The loss was $1,000,000, on which there was only $250,000 insurance. But so great was their energy that their vast business suffered little interruption. The war, which cut off business from the South, was supposed to have been a heavy loss to the firm; but it was more than compensated by the celebrity and popularity which the house acquired through the stand taken by it for the national cause Since 1861 this publishing house has been a center from which immense influence has radiated. Several years ago the sale of its publications reached five million dollars annually, and it has since increased. The business descends to the sons of the founders, who have all served a severe apprenticeship to it They who found such an establishment and leave it their name achieve a fame which many who go a place in history through a more boisterous career well might envy

It seems very probable that the President will accept the doctrine of those who would remonetize silver Against it such papers as the Times and World of New York launch their heaviest thunderbolts, while the Chicago Times declares there would be as much sense in the monetization of pig iron, and saw logs as in trying to restore to par with gold a metal already much depreciated, and fluctuating moreover as silver does.

Sultan Abdul is again in trouble. Discontent is rife in his capital and revolution is threatened. The simplest way for him to get out of the difficulties of his environment is to retire within the sanctuary of his seraglio and open his veins with a pair of scissors

BUTLER TO PITKIN

General Butler's letter to Marshal Pitkin has frequently been mentioned in the dispatches The crowded state of our columns precludes its publication herewith in full, but we append extracts which indicate its spirit. The fact that Wharton has been commissioned as marshal gives point to the whole affair The letter was written from Washington May 29th:

It is an open secret here as I am informed, that Colonel Wharton your competitor aided Mr Voegli one of the commissioners at New Orleans very largely in getting a portion of the members in the legislature to desert from Packard and go over to Nicholls by which a returning board legislature was put under countenance of Nicholls and then that legislature enabled the committee to advise that as the legislature had recognized the Nicholls government the President was bound to withdraw the troops. Now Wharton performed his part of the bargain, and I think you are very unreasonable in objecting that the administration should carry out their side of it or at least do the best that they can

Now, my dear Mr Pitkin, I call upon you by the love you bear the Republican party and its principles, in memory of the many sacrifices you have made during and since the war as a Union man in Louisiana for the safety of the country, and not for the sake of holding an office under the United States, not to throw any impediment in the way of the President fulfilling all the bargains which his subordinates found necessary in inaugurating his Southern policy, which is to be of so great and incalculable advantage not only to the party which you love so well, but for the unity and pacification of which you have given the best days of your manhood. I write this to you because I thought I detected in your note to me what seemed to be an unreasonable tone of complaint that you are thus to be sacrificed Remembering that Abraham was about sacrificing his only son, the child of his old age, to what he believed to be the will of God and the necessities of his people, and the good book does not make mention of the unreasonable complaints or outcries of Isaac on that account, and so when you find that the President in obedience to the call of his country and public exigency for its pacification deems it necessary to sacrifice you and take away your office and give it to one who wore the gray, you ought not to kick and squirm any more than Isaac did when he lay upon the altar under the knife of his father I am sorry that I write you any other words of comfort and consolation, but "such as I have I give unto you"

In the same vitriolic manner an allusion is made to the effort of the President to make Garfield Speaker

Wharton ought to be satisfied, precisely like my friend Gen Garfield, who, having done his best and succeeded in electing Mr Stanley Matthews to the Senate, at the request of the President, on an agreement that the President would make him speaker of the House of Representatives, will have to be and ought to be, satisfied with a fair honest and hearty endeavor on the part of the President to do all he can to make him speaker, and if he fails, Garfield will have nobody to blame but himself that a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush

It may properly be added that this whole affair wears about as plain an appearance of political intrigue as anything that ever came to light under the past administration.

A SIMPLE PROGRAMME.

Most Southern papers reason in the style of the following article from the Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer. It is a simple and perspicuous, yet sufficiently comprehensive programme, that is here set forth.

In the next Electoral College the South will poll 138 solid Democratic votes There will not be a Returning Board throughout the land to contravene the will of the people. Only New York (35 votes) and Indiana (15 votes) are needed to elect a President in 1880 In those two States the Democrats can consolidate all their money. These won and with the solid South beside, we shall have 188 votes, and that is more than is required to elect. The Republicans have every other State The Democrats will keep control of the House, and before their President is installed they will have the Senate by a good majority, and hence they will hold every branch of the Government. There is only three years to wait. Is it not then the essence for Hayes, an interloper and notorious fraud, to expect to divide the South and that grand party?

There is a great deal of sulking these days Conkling has never called at the White House since Hayes entered it, and now has gone to Europe. The Fenton wing of the party in New York has received too many civilities and attentions, and Evarts is in the State department. Conkling therefore withdraws into the solitude of his own haughtiness and grandeur, and lets the administration alone Perhaps the iron enters his soul whenever he reflects that it was the votes of his faithful New Yorkers who gave Hayes the nomination at Cincinnati.

The dispatch published yesterday relating to the removal of Pitkin from the marshalship of Louisiana and the appointment of "Jack" Wharton, was not very intelligible; but the drift of Pitkin's statement to the President seems to be this. "I am removed without cause, but if you want the office to meet your bargains, take it" The Louisiana politician never was remarkable for courtesy But now that Wharton is actually appointed Butler will consider his statement verified.

TAKE CARE OF YOUR EYES!

DR. M. S. SASSARETH.

THIS VERY DISTINGUISHED FRENCH OCULIST (of over 35 years experience) arrived here on the steamer City of Chester and is now stopping at Room No 1 St Charles Hotel where he will remain until the 21st of June His office hours are from 1 to 5 P M Consultation free

One of the leading papers of Indiana says of Dr Sassareth "He is without doubt a very scientific man who has thoroughly studied the eye and fully understands all the diseases and defects to which it is subject He treats these removes all obstructions and performs the most difficult operations when necessary, but the best remedy he furnishes for the defective eyesight is the most perfect glasses we ever saw Looking through a pair of his glasses is like having a pair of new eyes. The pleasure and satisfaction can only be realized by actual trial. These glasses are made upon the most scientific principle, and therefore are not only just what is needed but so perfect that the person using them is scarcely aware that any glasses at all are before his eyes Dr S has treated most successfully a number of our leading citizens and we notice that he is patronized by the best informed people wherever he goes

Dr Glick an eminent physician, writes as follows to Dr Sassareth "Having enjoyed the use of your eye glasses as adapted to my eyes by you in person I feel that I would be derelict in my duty to those similarly afflicted as I am, if I did not make this acknowledgement of gratitude to you My glasses both for reading and walking give me entire satisfaction"

Says the Delphi (Indiana) Journal "We are exceedingly cautious in recommending traveling physicians, yet when we find one whose talents and skill are endorsed by the best medical men in the State we feel that we run no risk in presenting him in the most favorable light We have just met one whom we can certainly endorse We allude to Dr Sassareth, an eminent French Oculist who is very highly recommended by Dr. Fitch of Logansport Drs Glick, O Farrell and other physicians of Lafayette, and scores of the best citizens of both places

The South Bend Register speaks thus of the great skill of Dr Sassareth "He is a very scientific oculist and thoroughly understands the delicate organism of the eye * * * He has treated with the most gratifying results a number of our leading citizens including ex Vice President Colfax"

A P Palmer, a prominent member of the City Bank of Albany, New York, says "I take great pleasure in referring to the time about five years ago, when you furnished me with the first eye glasses I ever had occasion to use and to bear testimony to the correctness of your judgment in the selection of those so admirably adapted to my sight."

DR SASSARETH expects to remain only about a fortnight in Portland His time is limited, and those who wish to consult him should call early He can be seen every day between 1 and 5 o clock P M

DRY GOODS.

THE PEOPLE.

Having determined to maintain the position held by us for the last five years, as

THE LEADING DRY GOODS HOUSE IN OREGON,

We take this means of announcing to the public that we are now displaying the largest and best assorted stock of GENERAL MERCHANDISE north of SAN FRANCISCO.

It shall continue to be our aim to give the

MOST GOODS

FOR THE

and to place before our patrons a variety of articles not to be found in any other house.

Being the ONLY retail store in Oregon that imports direct from NEW YORK, we are prepared to offer superior inducements, and our prices will always be found the LOWEST.

In order to make room for new importations we are forced to dispense with some of our lines, and for this reason have concluded to close out our stock of

BOYS' CLOTHING

At Clearance Prices.

It is not our intention to mislead the public by advertising Goods which we cannot produce upon enquiry, but to give VALUE RECEIVED in every instance.

Soliciting a call from every purchaser at the old stand,

Remain, respectfully,

P. SELLING,

OFFICE OF INSURANCE COMMISSIONER,
San Francisco, Feb 5, 1877.

I, J. W. Foard, hereby certify that I am Insurance Commissioner of the State of California, and have supervision of insurance business in the State, and as such Commissioner, further certify that the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California is a corporation properly organized under the laws of this State and being in a solvent condition and possessed of a paid up capital of One Hundred Thousand Dollars, equal to Gold Coin of the United States, is authorized to do business in the State And I further certify that, upon a personal examination of his books and papers of the said company at the close of the year eighteen hundred and seventy six, its statement as of this date, and now on file in this office, was shown to be correct and true, the company being possessed of good, valid assets amounting to one million two hundred and sixty four thousand eight hundred and thirty-six dollars and eighty six cents ($1,264 836 86), and having outstanding liabilities, as defined by the laws of the State, amounting to nine hundred and sixteen thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars and five cents ($916,750 05), exclusive of the Capital Stock.

As witness my hand and official seal, this day and year first above written.

L.S. J. W. FOARD,
Insurance Commissioner.

[Extract from Report of A. D. SMITH, ex-Deputy Insurance Commissioner.]

J. G EDWARDS, Publisher Coast Review,

Dear Sir—In pursuance of your request I have made an examination of the Assets and Liabilities of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California, as they existed on the 31st day of December 1876, as shown by the books and papers of the Company, and as a result of such examination I beg to report as follows

* * * * * *

Total Assets, Gold	$1,281,847 59
Re-Insurance Reserve, American Experience, 4½ per ct. $886 031 49
Claims for Death Losses 28,500 00
Due on Account Salaries and Rents 2,019 02
Total Liabilities, Gold	916,750 51
Net surplus to Policy-holders, Gold	$365,097 08
Company's paid-up Capital ... $100,000 00

The above is, I believe, a true and fair statement of the Company's condition Dec 31, 1876

In connection, I beg to say that I found the Company's business thoroughly systematized—its books and papers in excellent condition and neatly kept Every facility was extended to me by all the officers and employees of the Company to enable me to make my examination thorough. Books, papers, and accounts were freely exhibited to me There was no attempt to hold back or conceal anything I am satisfied the Company courts the most rigid scrutiny For courteous treatment, I beg to return thanks to the officers and attaches of the Company

Respectfully submitted, A D SMITH.

CITY.

THE CELEBRATION.—As the citizens [illegible] and declined to have a general celebration [illegible] the Fourth of July, our patriotic Hibernian citizens propose to celebrate, in a becoming manner, the glorious 101st anniversary of American Independence. The committee having charge of the affair desire that it be generally to understand that it will be a genuine celebration as well as a picnic. Invitations to several military organizations of the city have been invited to participate in the exercises, and will doubtless signify their acceptance. The procession will form on the forenoon the procession will move through the principal streets of the city, the national colors flying to the enlivening strains of martial music. After parading through the city the procession will march to East Portland, where the literary exercises are to be held. An cordial invitation is extended to the public and the members of the Portland Hibernian Benevolent Society The evening will close with a grand display of fire works.

DRIFTED TO SEA.—On the night between the 9th and 10th of June, one of the boats belonging to the Anglo-American Company passed from the river of Columbia river bar, and after the rest of that night which was stormy, found themselves about 30 miles off and south of it. Having every thing including the salmon, they made sight of a schooner but were not recognized, and long that the good steamer City of Chester then due, they beat around the usual of that vessel. The men as well as company feel grateful to the captain of the for their delivery and the treasury of the and all parties hereby tender Capt. [illegible] his officers their grateful thanks.

THE CELEBRATION.—As the citizens of Portland declined to have a general celebration on the Fourth of July, our patriotic Hibernian citizens propose to celebrate, in a becoming manner, the glorious 101st anniversary of American Independence. The committee having charge of the affair desire the public generally to understand that it will be a general celebration as well as a picnic. A cordial invitation is extended the public by the members of the Portland Hibernian Benevolent Society. The evening will conclude with a grand display of fire works.

DRIFTED TO SEA.—On the night between the 9th and 10th of June, one of the boats belonging to the Anglo-American Packing Company passed from the river over the Columbia river bar, and after the remainder of that night which was stormy, the men found themselves about 30 miles off the bar and south of it. Having everything safe inside the salmon, they made signals to a steamer but were not recognized, and knowing that the good steamer City of Chester was due that day, they beat around the usual course of that vessel. The men as well as the company feel grateful to the captain of the Chester for her delivery and the safety of the property, and all parties hereby tender Capt. Bolles and his officers their grateful thanks.

FIFTY MILES AGAINST TIME.—Mr. John P. Smith, the champion fifty mile rider of the United States, arrived in this city by the last steamer, and is now making arrangements for an exhibition of this kind of racing. This gentleman is right fresh from the saddle, as it were—he having just finished races at Los Angeles, San Jose and San Francisco, and is in splendid condition to undertake this wonderful ride. His time, being the lowest on record, is what he proposes to ride against. He is at present looking for horses suitable for the race—ten in number being required—which he is confident he will be able to secure in a few days.

GRAND OFFICERS ELECTED.—Yesterday afternoon the Grand Lodge A. F. & A. M., elected the following officers to serve for the ensuing year: Robert Clow of Dallas, M. W. G. M.; Thomas G. Reames, Jacksonville, D. G. M.; F. B. Dunn, Eugene City, S. G. W.; W. T. Wright, Union, J. G. W.; R. P. Earhart, Portland, Good Secretary, and Theodore Wygant, Portland, Treasurer. David Froman, chairman of the committee on educational fund. To-day the appointed officers will be announced by the Grand Master, and installation ceremonies be held.

Macrum was elected vice president to fill said vacancy.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—This afternoon at 2 o'clock a very important sale of real estate will take place at the Court House door by the well known auctioneers Messrs. Gilman & Irvin. The following property will be disposed of at auction: Lot 7, block 12, situated on the corner directly back of the Norton Block; lot 4, block 116, is situated on the corner of Clay and First streets. The sale is positively announced to come off.

DROWNED.—Says the evening contemporary: Two men fell asleep last Saturday in one of fishing boats a short distance from, and in view of Astoria. One of the men fell overboard while in a somnolent condition and was drowned. The other was ignorant of the accident until a passing boat awoke and informed him that his companion was dead.

SEATTLE BASE-BALLISTS.—They have a base ball club at Seattle which is liable to make a very close game in the event of a contest with other clubs. It is hinted they desire to play the Pioneers on the Fourth of July, and feel pretty confident of winning. The Portland ball players should gird on their armor.

RUNAWAY.—We are informed that a two-horse team from Cornelius ran away on Sunday last while traveling to Portland. The vehicle was pretty badly damaged, but we believe no serious injuries befel the occupants, as they sprung out before the buggy collided and was brought to a standstill.

BASKET MEETING.—There will be a basket meeting on Saturday and Sunday, 23d and 24th inst., in the grove near Mr. Keenan's No. 9 school district, known as the Phipps' neighborhood, 21 miles south of Milwaukie, near the river road. A cordial invitation extended to the public.

COAL TO TESTED.—A scow load of 90 tons of coal, from the Chehalis mine, was towed up the river yesterday by the Commodore Perry. This coal was taken on board the City of Chester, and will be tested on the down trip of that vessel. A test on the Perry proved satisfactory.

CITY TAXES.—From Mr. Jos. Bachman, the efficient city treasurer, we learn that the total amount of taxes collected by him this year, is $43,795 75. He has issued 1,396 tax receipts.

A quartette of ambitious Nimrods left the city Sunday on the Cornell road for a hunt; but when they reached the hunting grounds they found their time was so limited as to render immediate return necessary. Consequently they turned the team homeward, minus game. They should remember "'tis the early bird that gets the worm."

STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY.

SALEM, June 12, 1877.

The Oregon State Medical Society met yesterday at 2 o'clock P. M. In the absence of the President, Dr. W. H. Watkins, Dr. D. B. Rice, Vice President, called the Society to order, and the session was opened with prayer by Dr. L. L. Rowland. The Secretary being absent, Dr. Hall, of Salem, was selected as Secretary. Dr. Carpenter delivered the welcoming address, as follows:

GENTLEMEN: As chairman of the committee of arrangements, it is my most grateful office to welcome you to this the capital city of the State of Oregon, a State destined soon to assume a high rank with the older and wealthier States, and to assure you of the cordial pleasure with which your assemblage here has been anticipated by the entire profession of this city.

Our duties as physicians is a theme worthy of the pen of our ablest writers, and the efforts of our most accomplished speakers—subject of which we should never lose sight so long as we are members of the medical profession. However I have no time or disposition to enter upon this subject further than relates to our Society.

Medicine is a progressive science, and I fully trust that the time has arrived when we will confine ourselves more to scientific attainments and less to professional differences, consequently carry out the legitimate object of our organization—viz: promoting true medical science among its members, and elevate the character of the physician in the community.

We should never relinquish our studies,—our motto should be: Observe, read, reflect and record. Our duties to each other are many. Here allow me to refer you to the able precepts laid down in the code of ethics. That we may pay especial regard to our obligations as members of a great and noble profession. Then let us endeavor to carry out the spirit of the code which we have adopted for our government. Let us try to discard past difficulties and conserve ourselves anew to the great work before us. Although we may differ religiously and politically, we should be as one professionally. Yea, should all be gentlemen upon the same platform. Then let us work together for the advancement of our science and exert our utmost abilities in behalf of our patients, walk upright in the discharge of our duties as physicians before God and man.

After roll call, Dr. Richardson moved that the order of business be suspended so as to take up miscellaneous business; the motion was agreed to.

Dr. Sharpless moved that women, who are graduates of regular medical colleges, should be admitted to membership in medical societies; the motion was carried in the affirmative.

The board of censors reported favorably on the application of Drs. O. M. Dodson, W. P. Smith, O. D. Doane, Geo. J. Hill, Angie L. Ford, Ella J. Ford, Harry Lane and J. M. Pruett to become members of the society; the report was adopted and the applicants were elected.

Dr. Cutting, of Indiana, was introduced to the society.

The election of officers was postponed till this morning.

Dr. Sharpless spoke a few minutes on surgery, and promised a written report at a later date.

Dr. Hall spoke on the subject of diphtheria. The subject is an interesting one, and called out a lengthy discussion. Dr. Hall stated that he knew of no cases in this city at the present time.

Dr. McKay stated he had never known of a case of diphtheria among the Indians. Every speaker was uncertain as to all the laws of the malady, and gave only his observation and his method of treatment.

The society adjourned till this morning at 8 o'clock.

This morning the society elected as officers for the ensuing year: L. L. Rowland, M. D., Salem, for President; W. C. McKay, M. D., Wasco county, Vice President; C. H. Hall, M. D., Salem, Corresponding Secretary; J. P. Tate, M. D., Albany, Treasurer; C. C. Strong, M. D., Portland, Permanent Secretary. The board of censors consists of J. A. Richardson, M. D., Salem; S. D. McCauley, M. D., Stayton; W. B. Cardwell, M. D., Portland; A. C. Helm, M. D., ——, and D. B. Rice, M. D., Albany.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A TRAVELER'S VIEWS.

In the San Francisco Call of the 5th inst. we observe the following notice of the lecture of Rev. T. L. Eliot in that city:

At the Mercantile Library Hall, last evening, Rev. Dr. T. L. Eliot gave an interesting lecture upon his travels in Athens and Greece to an attentive an appreciative audience. Describing in ornate language the scenery of the approach to Greece and the locale of Athens, he compared the former to that of the California coast, or more particularly of the region around Denver, and of the latter to San Francisco and her surrounding hills. The same climatic aspects and beauties of atmospheric tints were there visible as in this country, save that owing to the gray-blue of the dove stone lime rocks a richer and more gorgeous tone of purple was visible. He eloquently descanted upon the intense interest taken by the world at large in Grecian mythology, owing particularly to its democratic tendency. He explained that the Greek religion created the Greek people, and not the arts and philosophy, which were simply the offsprings of their deep religious sentiment. The chief characteristics of the Greek divinities were their humanity and consequent sympathy with human life, its trials, sorrows, triumphs and rejoicings. A heavenly patron communing with man as a father with his child, is better than a cold abstraction of any sort, however infinite and sacred. In the language of a poet and a student, Dr. Eliot described the localities he visited, and speaking of the Parthenon, whose perfect beauty for a long time puzzled those who sought for a reason for its perfection, unraveled the mystery by explaining that there were not straight lines in its composition, but that its delicate curves assisted in its perfect perspective of elevation, while all the measures were of the most delicate sculptural symmetry, each stone being cut to the accuracy of one one-hundredth part of a metre. Dealing with Greece as a country, the lecturer despaired of all hopes for its future success until the day of banditti, and the idle dreamers of a Pan-Hellenic Republic had passed away, and a sensible, practicable and honest education had taught the people to build from the foundation upward, instead of the reverse. Speaking of the present aspect of affairs caused by the Russo-Turkish war, Dr. Eliot said: Doubtless the war party in Greece hope, by war, not so much to achieve a conquest as to harass the enemy, and make sacrifices which will entitle the nation to their share of territorial award when an adjustment is made. If Greece remains a passive looker-on, she will have no consideration in the new map of Europe. Turkey's extremity is her opportunity, both for gaining advantage over the Osmanli, and preserving a dignity which will prevent Russian aggrandizement, for Greece has as wholesome a fear of Russian greed as of Turkish despotism. The present war may realize the grand idea of a Greece—her transformation, like Italy, into a grand country, wherein just liberties shall foster peace and plenty.

POSTAL ORDERS.

The following letter has just been received at the postoffice in this city, which will explain itself:

RAILWAY MAIL SERVICE, EIGHTH DIVISION,
OFFICE OF THE SUPERINTENDENT,
SAN FRANCISCO, June 2, 1877.

Sir: Herewith I send you copy of an order received from the department through Hon. T. N. Vail, general superintendent of the railway mail service:

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 25th, 1877.

T. N. VAIL, Esq., General Superintendent R. M. S., Washington, D. C.—Sir: In order to lighten the mail on route 40,653, between Redding, California, and Roseburg, Oregon, you will please direct Assistant Superintendent McKenzie to send, from and after this order, all through third class matter, such as magazines, etc., for Oregon and Washington Territory, by the steamer Ajax from San Francisco to Portland, and all matter of the first class via California and Oregon Railroad, as at present.

Respectfully, THOS. J. BRADY,
Second Ass't P. M. General.

Respectfully referred to E. J. McKenzie, Supt. R. M. S. 8th Division, San Francisco, Cal., for his information and action. M. V. BAILY.
Acting General Superintendent.

DR. SASSARETH.—This eminent and scientific French oculist arrived on the last steamer, and is now stopping at the St. Charles hotel. Dr. Sassareth resides in New York, and he has been induced to pay Portland a visit, as much through a desire to see this prosperous and rapidly growing young State of which he has heard recently such favorable reports, as for professional purposes. He has been sojourning for the past six months in California. Judging from the very complimentary credentials which he bears, Dr. Sassareth has met with very gratifying success in the Golden State. Prominent among those who bear cheerful testimony of the scientific skill of Dr. S., as an oculist, can be mentioned: Dr. John Leconte and Dr. Jos. Leconte, of the University of California; Dr. E. T. Wilkins, of the Napa Insane Asylum; T. H. Sinex, D. D., of Santa Rosa College; Dr. C. C. Harrington, of Marysville; Dr. G. A. Shurleff, of Stockton Insane Asylum; Dr. Fagen, of Santa Cruz; Dr. Ollendorf, of Sacramento, and many other prominent men of that State. Dr. S. has traveled all over the Union, and has endorsements from hundreds of leading physicians, divines, lawyers and journalists. He will remain only about two weeks in the city.

DRESS MAKING.—There is nothing so becoming to a lady as a well fitting and finished dress, and from one who is a good judge of such matters, we learn that Madame Sevier, whose establishment is over the Central Drug Store, Second street near Morrison, has great success in the dresses made by her. She served in New York with Madame Demorest and also with S. F. Taylor, which are, we should think, good guarantee of superior workmanship.

Ladies, if you want a nice cashmere dress go to the Emporium of Fashion of J. Harris & Son.

Pleating machines for sale at the office of the Howe Machine Co., $3 each.

The largest assortment of ladies' linen suits in the city, can be found at J. Harris & Son's Emporium of Fashion.

Fabre is "on deck" again and will be found at the Chateau de Versailles at all hours.

Dr. E. A. Jones has removed to the office occupied heretofore by Dr. Littlefield, rooms 1 and 3 on second floor, Strowbridge's building, First and Alder streets. The Doctor can be found at his office day and night.

The Medical Institute of Dr. W. L. Adams, corner of First and Salmon streets, will be removed to Hood river in a few months. Till then chronic diseases of men and women will be treated in Portland as usual. An accomplished lady assistant to give baths to ladies and assist in their treatment always in the office.

A few years ago "August Flower" was discovered to be a certain cure for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint; a few thin Dyspeptics made known to their friends how easily and quickly they had been cured by its use. The great merits of GERMAN AUGUST FLOWER became heralded through the country by one sufferer to another, until, without advertising, its sale has become immense. Druggists in EVERY TOWN in the United States are selling it. No person suffering with Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Low Spirits, etc., can take three doses without relief. Go to your Druggist and get a bottle for 75 cents and try it. Sample bottles 10 cents. Agents, Crane & Brigham, wholesale druggists, San Francisco.

Disease Is An Antagonist

That should be attacked the instant he shows himself. Don't wait. A hum before his nails are grown, and wise him out. The great alterative and invigorant of the age, Hostteter's Stomach Bitters, will speedily infuse such healthful tone into your organism that it will be enabled to successfully resist future attacks. The Bitters prevent and remedy chills and fever and bilitous remittents, and eradicate dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, rheumatic ailments, urinary and uterine difficulties. It is particularly beneficial when the system has been drained of its vitality or is inherently deficient in strength. The nerves gather from it both vigor and tranquility. But while it imparts strength and gives a wholesome stimulus to the animal economy, it does not unduly excite it like the cheap exhilirants sometimes resorted to, under the erroneous impression that they can invigorate.

CATARRH.

Would willingly have given one hundred dollars for the relief obtained from the first dose.

From the well-known maker of Yale's Mammoth Tent.

Gentlemen—I have suffered ten years from the worst forms of Acute Catarrh, or Cold in the Head, that ever afflicted mortal man. Whenever I took a fresh cold it would settle in my head, causing the most violent sneezing, accompanied by excessive discharges from my eyes and nose. For days and days my suffering would be intense, and finally settled in my lungs and bowels, would render my life miserable for a month. Never, during all my sufferings, was I able to obtain even temporary relief from any medicine I ever tried. Three weeks ago, while suffering from the worst attack I ever had, I procured a bottle of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. The relief from the first dose was so gratifying that I would willingly have given one hundred dollars to obtain it. A few doses completely cured me. My head has since been perfectly free from mucous accumulations, my breathing easy, and not a symptom of trouble about my back and bowels has presented itself. Its effect in my case has been truly remarkable.

Very respectfully, R. M. YALE,
Sail and Awning Maker, 2 South Market St.

CATARRH.

A Remarkable Case of Catarrh Cured by the use of Twelve Bottles.

We select the following case as showing how frightful this disease may become, and as a convincing proof of the value of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE, as a reliable remedy for its cure, even in cases of the greatest severity. We regret that from motives of delicacy, the gentleman declined to permit the use of his name:

Case No. 11.—This is the case of a man in the prime of life who had contracted the disease through a bad cold six years ago. Favored by a scrofulous condition of the blood, the disease sent its acid poison into every part of the system, so that when he commenced the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE it had become one of the worst cases ever experienced by any living man. The discharge at night was thick, putrid and streaked with blood, and so excessive in quantity as to discharge itself upon the pillow during sleep, and collecting in quantities in the throat, would, at the point of strangulation, wake him. Several times each night he was obliged to get up and partially clear his nostrils and throat before he could sleep. From the use of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE to the present, the cure has been gradual, satisfactory and permanent. He has used twelve bottles, and now experiences no return of the discharge nor any of its disagreeable symptoms, besides enjoying unusually good health otherwise.

CATARRH.

A series of uninterrupted Cures effected with it by a well-known Boston Physician.

From Dr. Chas. Main.

Catarrh is the opprobium medicorum of the medical profession, and by many is thought incurable. When, therefore, a preparation is presented to my notice, endorsed by so responsible a firm as Messrs. Weeks & Potter, I am bound to give it a fair and unprejudiced trial, and when such trial results in a series of uninterrupted cures, I cannot allow professional etiquette to interfere with a candid expression of my regard for it. I therefore give SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH my unqualified approval, and consider it is a remedy for the treatment of every form of Catarrh superior to any preparation laid down in any text book with which I am familiar. Very respectfully,
DR. CHARLES MAIN,
Boston, May 19. 342 Harrison Avenue.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 13, 1877.

COMMENCEMENT AT SALEM.

SALEM, June 12, 1877.

Last evening the Alka and Athenaeum literary societies of the University gave their annual exhibition at Reed's Opera House in this city. The entertainment included a farce and a drama which required a good deal of stage paraphernalia not obtainable in the University chapel, and before this reason the usual orthodox objections to theaters gave way, and we had the rather uncommon scene of a theatrical troupe in which Methodists largely predominated playing in a theater crowded by the applauding disciples of John Knox, John Robinson, and John Wesley. There are four literary societies connected with the University: the Hesperian, the Concordia, the Alka and the Athenaeum. The two former occupy one hall and the two latter another. The Concordia and Athenaeum are ladies' societies and are known as the sister societies of the Hesperian and Alka respectively. A rather fierce rivalry has always existed, and as one of the fruits of it we find that their capacious halls are furnished rather extravagantly in the way of carpets, curtains and paintings, at the expense and detriment perhaps of their libraries. In the old days the Hesperian and Philomathean were the two societies on which the good name and destiny of the University were supposed largely to depend. Since then the Philomathean has totally collapsed, and much of the early glory of the Hesperian has departed. The old society boys have scattered to the four winds, and many of them we find snugly nestled in the friendly embrace of the metropolis. Richard Williams has "got into" Congress, John Cartwright has figured conspicuously as a Presidential Elector; Byron Bellinger has distinguished himself as a Democratic editor and politician; Roswell Lamson has retired on a glorious war record; Tom Crawford has become a leading educator; Syl. Simpson has been rotating in a round of public offices; Sam. Simpson has written the best of poetry; and Geo. Durham and Charley Parrish and Bent. Killin and John Waldo and Bob Bybee have gone into law, Burnell into finance and Strong and Baltimore to journalism. This doesn't comprise the whole list, but they may be accepted as samples of the others who didn't "rotate" towards Portland. The glory of their achievements has not filled the whole land, which is only accounted for by their extreme youth. Look 'em over and you'll scarcely find a gray hair or a bald head in the whole collection.

The Alka Society was organized in 1864 with J. K. Gill as president, and the Athenaeum somewhat later. These societies, on their appearance last evening, were greeted by a large audience, who were well repaid for their attendance. The exercises opened with a nocturne, "Among the Pines," in which Misses Holderness and Spaulding, Dr. Ealt and Mr. George B. Gray took part. A well worded salutatory was then delivered by Miss Viola Davis. Her delivery was good and pronunciation very distinct, though her voice had hardly strength or volume enough to fill the large room in which she spoke. Her production was comparatively free from the old, hackneyed expressions so common, and closed with a fine tribute to the "old pioneers." We were next treated to a grand march from the cantata of the "Great Rebellion," which was well calculated to revive the memories of '61 opening as it did with the muffled roll of drums and the rear of rifles (or fire crackers) behind the scenes. The singing was excellent, and the various military evolutions were well executed, though in the closing scene the awkward way in which some of the soldiers who were simulating death had doubled themselves up, operated to spoil the effect of the mournful requiem which was being sung over their remains. The cantata was followed by an excellent recitation from Miss Bertha Moores, entitled "One Niche the Highest"—Elihu Burritt's thrilling description of a scene at the great Natural Bridge in Virginia. The next exercise, after an overture by Misses Hall and Scriber and Messrs. Hall and Gray, was a drama, entitled "One Hundred Years Ago, or The Boys of '76," in which the majority of the players displayed a histrionic talent worthy of professionals. Pathos and humor and love alternated throughout, and the characters included patriots, tories, Quakers clamorous for peace, a lone darkey and a disconsolate Dutch man always in trouble. The moral of the drama, if it had any, was that woman always has her own way.

Part second upon the programme opened with an overture from the "Bohemian Girl," one of the best musical features of the evening, in which Mr. W. T. Gray took part with the cornet, Mr. Geo. Gray with the violin, Dr. Hall with the flute and Miss Nellie Hall on the piano. This was followed with a very fine rendition of the "Polish Boy," by Miss Addie Scriber, and this by a vocal solo from Miss Ada May. Then followed a farce, entitled "A Race for a Widow," which, in a metaphorical sense, brought down the house. The exercises of the evening concluded with a valedictory, delivered by Mr. R. J. Nichols, which was the most original and meritorious performance of the evening. Among those who took part in the various exercises of the evening were Misses Holderness, Spaulding, Davis, Althea and Bertha Moores, Hall, May and Chamberlin, and Messrs. Hall, W. and G. Gray, Irvine, Grabbe, Kelly, Belt, Morrison, Johns and Nichols. Among these Miss Ada May and Miss Ollie Chamberlin deserve special mention for their singing. In the drama the excellent acting of Miss Chamberlin and Messrs. Belt and Gray made them the favorites, though the characters they personated had much to do in influencing the judgment, and where all were so good it is hard, perhaps, to discriminate. The entertainment was a great success in every respect.

THE DOCTORS.

To-day is sacred to the disciples of Esculapius. The State Medical Society opened its annual session at the office of the State Superintendent of Instruction yesterday. This evening the Commencement exercises of the Medical Department of the University will take place in the Chapel. An address is to be delivered by Dr. Wm. H. Watkins, of Portland, President of the State Medical Society. The Aurora string band will furnish music for the occasion. The degree of M. D. will be conferred upon Misses A. L. and E. A. J. Ford, of Salem; Geo. Hill, Portland; H. R. Holmes, Salem; J. M. Kitchen, Albany; J. M. Morgan, Halsey; C. M. and Z. T. Dodson, Dallas; W. F. Morrison, San Francisco; J. E. Payton, Salem; J. N. Power, Port Townsend, W. T.; J. W. Starr, Monroe; and W. W. Oglesby, California. W. F. Farley, of Dallas, will receive the degree of Ph. D. After the exercises at the Chapel, the whole Medical fraternity will repair to the Chemeketa for supper.

SEATTLE CORRESPONDENCE.

Our occasional correspondent, at Seattle writes under date of June 10th (Sunday):

Messrs. Yesler, Colman, Shattuck, Smithers and Wheeler returned home from San Francisco last Thursday evening overland. One of the objects of their visit to the Bay City was to complete negotiations for the construction of a branch line of the Seattle and Walla Walla railroad from Renton (seventeen miles distant from Seattle) to the Seattle coal mines. The distance from the latter to the former place is about seven miles. There is no reasonable doubt of the road's being built. The stockholders of the S. & W. W. R. R. held a meeting on yesterday (Saturday) to entertain and deliberate upon a proposition for the building of the line. On Monday, the 11th inst., a final meeting will be held, when a definite understanding will be had. No doubt Mr. Colman will build the road. We understand that one of the conditions of the contract will be the completion of the branch line by the 15th of October, 1877. The saving by the building of this line to the Seattle Coal and Transportation Company is estimated at all the way from 25 to 50 cents per ton. The plan so far as we can learn, seems to be that the Coal Company shall have immense bunkers erected at their mines and the S. & W. W. R. R. coal cars will be run under the shutes, filled, brought to the railroad wharf in the city, (which is to be extended further out into the bay) and from the cars discharged into vessels alongside. This arrangement will enable the Coal Co. to bring all the coal to the city which can be mined, as the railroad company will build all the cars they require. This new arrangement will also enable the company to place their coal in the San Francisco market at prices which will defy competition. Having already a large share of the coal trade of that city, with the increased and cheapened facilities above alluded to, they will find it a matter of little difficulty to maintain the position they now hold in the already immense and rapidly increasing coal trade of this coast.

The celebrated "Seattle Mine" base ball club, which so easily defeated "our cousins" over the way on the Queen's birthday, are making preparation for another, and perhaps not so easy a victory over the Victoria boys, who are to visit our city on the Fourth of July. Yesterday afternoon while the Seattle boys were practicing in the university grounds, their pitcher (as good, perhaps, as there is on the coast) had the misfortune of having the third finger on the right hand broken by a ball which he tried to take on "the fly." It is feared he will not be able to play on the Fourth, in which event the result between the two clubs will be very doubtful—more especially as the Victorians have a pitcher up from San Francisco. A rifle team is to be here on the Fourth, from Victoria, to contest the honors with a very irregular and unsteady Seattle team. All the above patriotic and international sports are to take place at the race track three miles from the city, when everybody will ride out on the train which will run to and from the grounds during the day.

Barks Column and Bell, brig North Star, and ships Silby and Western Shore, beside three other coasters, are now in port.

The body of Gray, drowned, has not yet been recovered.

The aspect in business circles generally is unchanged as to the course of commercial affairs in the near future. The week so far has developed no new features, and with the continuance of an ample supply of loanable funds to meet the current demand the money market is quiet as before.

There are causes at work which induce the belief that in the course of some months there will be a material reduction of rates on money all over the Pacific coast to some more nearly corresponding with those in other commercial centers. Such an event would give an impetus to the growth of this State, such as nothing else would do. It would be the beginning of an era of development and progress that would soon place Oregon far in advance of her present position. Her rich agricultural lands, now idle, would be brought under the plough, her vast mineral resources would be developed, and her inexhaustible forests would be made available in furnishing lumber to supply every accessible market. The increase of business would even obviate any loss to the capitalists of the country by the reduction, and all other industrial enterprises would be vastly benefited.

The produce market to-day has undergone no changes, and with a fair degree of activity prevalent in nearly all branches of business, the present condition and outlook of trade is rather favorable than otherwise. Our dispatches from abroad to-day contain much valuable commercial information.

English Crops and Markets.

LONDON, June 12—The Mark Lane Express says: Judging from present appearances our harvest this year will be late, and whether farmers eventually obtain a fair return for their labor must depend upon weather influences during the next two months. The supply of English wheat both at Mark Lane and provincial markets has been very meagre, and with stocks in growers hands at such low ebb, but little change in this respect can be looked for. Business in the country being less directly affected by the depressing action of continuous large foreign supplies, have been more active than at Mark Lane, and growers have succeeded in obtaining advances on English wheat which factors in town have failed to do. With regard to foreign imports into London they have been liberal, to-day's returns showing the arrival of nearly 63,000 quarters. Statistics indicate the requirements of this country between now and harvest will be about 5,000,000 quarters, and as the supply in sight falls short of this quantity by about a million quarters, the firmness of holders appears reasonable. Still the high level of values to which wheat rose in London has been taken advantage of by nearly all exporting countries so that the requisite quantity will be forthcoming from Russia and India, if not from America. The future course of trade is no doubt very uncertain. Should politics assume a more threatening aspect, or the season prove unfavorable to farmers, we may again see wheat up to 70s per quarter. The week's trade has been limited to the supply of immediate requirements of millers, who have been able to satisfy their wants at 2s per quarter less money. Maize sold slowly at about 1s 6d per quarter for mixed American. The possible future of this article gives rise to much conjecture at home and abroad. The brilliant weather which set in the first of the week had a quieting effect upon the floating cargo trade, and with the exception of the Chinnas, which commanded full prices, all descriptions of wheat declined 1s to 2s per quarter. There are now few cargoes of Black Sea wheat on the passage, nearly all steamer cargoes having already arrived at their destination. Maize and barley have receded fully 1s per quarter, and with large arrivals trade closed dull at the decline.

New York Freights and Markets.

NEW YORK, June 12—Flour, good demand steady prices, but business was checked by attempt of some dealers to get better prices. Wheat dull and weak, nominally 1@3 lower; on spring of all grades, shippers not in the market. Barley dull; 30,000 bushels of California resold from auction sale last week at 55, Pork dull 14@15. Refined sugars unchanged; prices except for ye low, in buyers favor. Teas irregular; holders firm; cargo new Japan arrived to day. Rides dull; leather quiet. Wool unchanged, condition of the goods market not warranting manufacturers in taking on y sufficient for actual wants, Dry goods continue moderately active, prices well sustained.

Philadelphia Wool Market.

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—Wools scarce; prices firmer with upward tendency; Colorado washed, 18@27; unwashed, 17@19; extra and merino pu led, 35@37; No. 1 super pulled, 33@36; Texas fine and medium, 18@33; coarse, 16@18; California fine and medium, 30@32; coarse, 26@25.

Liverpool Markets.

LIVERPOOL, June 12.—Breadstuffs weaker; wheat 12s 4d@12s 8d for average California white, 12s 8d@13s 10d for club, 1.s 6d@13s for red western spring; corn, 23 6d@23 9d for new mixed Western. Receipts of wheat for the past three days, 34,000, American 19,000.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN

In the Treatment of Chronic Disease.

Positive Proof of his Wonderful Skill.

Testimony that Cannot be Contradicted.

Reliable Witnesses Testifying What he has Done for Them.

Perfect Cures where all other Treatment had Failed.

Crowds Coming from all Parts of the Country to Visit Him.

The Following Certificates Speak for Themselves:

TO DR. PAUL M. BRENAN—

For the past year and a half I have been suffering from Nervousness and General Debility Kidney Disease, Loss of Flesh and Strength, dizziness in the head and a constant pain through the back and loins. I became so debilitated and broken down that I was unfitted for business. I have been to Victoria and all over the coast, under medical treatment for the past nine months, without receiving any benefit whatever, and had almost given up hopes of ever recovering, until I came under your treatment, about seven weeks ago. From the very first your treatment seemed to work like a charm, and I commenced to improve from the beginning. I have gained 14 pounds of flesh, and I am now, thanks to your skillful treatment, perfectly well, and am able to return to my business on the Snohomish. JAMES KING.

Seattle, March 31, 1877.

To the People: I have been troubled with chronic Nasal Catarrh for years, the disease being so aggravated that there was constantly an effusion of matter passing down into my throat behind the palate and out through my nostrils.

My nose became depressed between the eyes and swollen on each side. I was told by physicians that it was a polypus; that some of the blood vessels were involved and that the removal would endanger my life by hemorrhage. I became so bad that I made up my mind that I must have immediate relief or die.

As a last resor, I applied to Dr. Paul M. Brenan, who, after a moment's examination, determined what to do. He said the nasal bone was involved and diseased, and that there would have to be a portion of it removed. He at once removed the bone tumor containing the ulcer; also the diseased portion of bone and pancatory gland and cured the catarrh. I am now perfectly well and as free from disease as ever I was in my life.

Seattle, April 5th, 1877. THOMAS D. MURPHY.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN—Dear Sir: I take great pleasure in stating for the benefit of those who are afflicted with any chronic disease, that I am now a well man. For the past two years I have been under the medical treatment of different physicians, from which I have received no benefit. I have been suffering with general and nervous debility, a difficulty in my stomach, and at times dizziness and severe headache, almost incapacitating me for work. About three weeks ago I put myself under your care, and I can say with delight that I am cured and feel like myself again, after having partaken of your skillful treatment. To me now, labor seems a pleasure. I say this much, hoping it will be the means of attracting the suffering to you who can relieve and cure them.

Your's Truly, JOHN BALLARD.
Employed at Colman's Saw Mill, Seattle.
